

2017-18 factsheet

Disabled Persons Railcard (DPRC) in circulation and issued

Publication date: 28 June 2018

About the data

The Disabled Persons Railcard (DPRC) enables disabled passengers to get a discount of a third off adult rail fares for travel on the National Rail network in Great Britain.

DPRC's are available for both one year and three years in length.

This data is collected by ORR for Disabled People's Protection Policies (DPPP) compliance monitoring.

Definitions

DPRC in circulation: the number of disabled persons railcards in circulation which are valid to use for a discount on rail fares. This includes both one year and three year railcards.

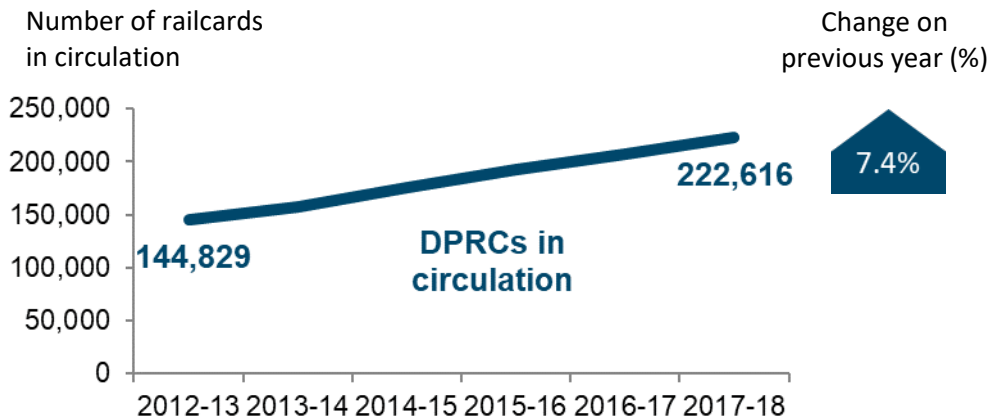

DPRC issued (one year) / (three years)

Disabled persons railcards issued which either one year or three years in length.

The data is published every quarter on ORR's data portal.

The publication timetable can viewed at: <http://orr.gov.uk/statistics/release-schedule>

Disabled persons railcards in circulation, Great Britain, 2012-13 to 2017-18 (table 16.01)

222,616

disabled persons railcards in circulation at the end of 2017-18, a 7.4% increase compared to the previous year

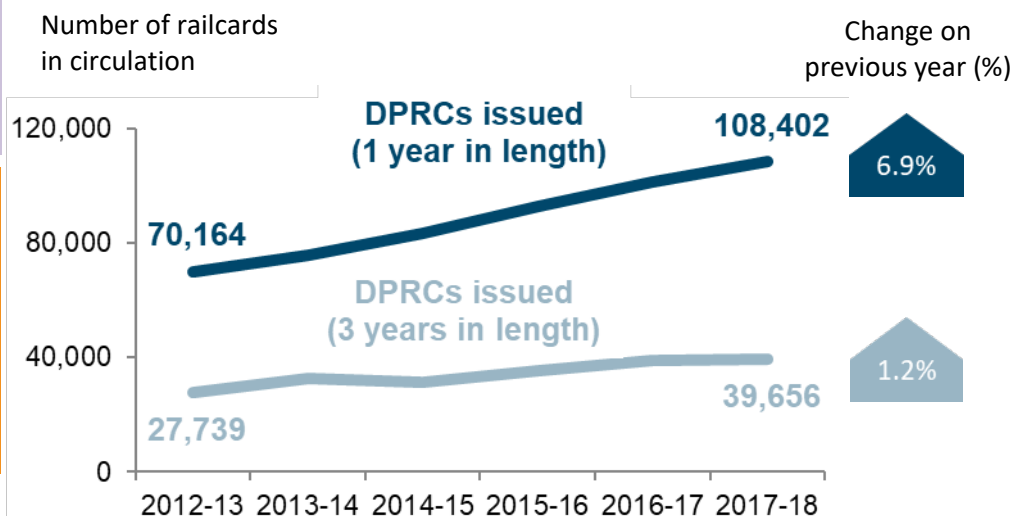

108,402

one year railcards issued during 2017-18, a 6.9% increase on last year

39,656

three year railcards issued during 2017-18, a 1.2% increase on last year

Disabled persons railcards issued, Great Britain, 2012-13 to 2017-18 (Table 16.01)

Source: Rail Delivery Group